Youth center opens in Lavelle

Sponsored by the Christ United Lutheran Youth Group, the Community Youth Center, on East Main Street, Lavelle, opened its doors for the first time Saturday. Open to youngsters from throughout the area, the center, located at the rear of the old school house, will be open Thursday and Friday nights and weekends from 1 to 10 p.m. It was opened with the idea of giving area youth something to do and someplace to go. One of the many games available is ping pong (top photo) enjoyed here by, from left, Duane Ernest, Amy Newton, Caroline Yoder, Amy Green, Rev. Bob Kysar, Carole Fetterolf and Kathy Green. Barbara Fetterolf (center photo) tries her hand at a game of pool under the watchful eye of her husband, Dean, both adult advisors for the center. In bottom photo, the center was officially opened with the traditional ribbon cutting ceremony by, from left, Carole Fetterolf, Rev. Kysar and Dean Fetterolf. Supported solely by community donations, the center will also sponsor its first dance next Friday night. (Andy Popalis photos)
